

It Was Forming Before You Saw It

This one wasn't immediate.

Not a face.

Not something you could name.

But something was there.

It stretched across the sky.

Half-seen.

Still becoming.

Still uncertain.

It was forming before you saw it.